

www.RemodelOhio.org

Contact: Ed "Flash" Ferenc
216 789-2597 djbflash@aol.com

January 5, 2010

Homeowners will find inspiration at the 2010 RemodelOhio Show New Feature—The Home Décor Pavilion

(Cleveland) – Attendees of the 2010 RemodelOhio Show (www.RemodelOhio.org) will be treated to an exciting new feature, The Home Décor Pavilion, an area spotlighting interior design and home décor products in a high-style, interactive and educational setting that includes on-site workshops.

“This is a new direction for us, because we’re not just targeting consumers seeking home improvement projects. We’re also reaching out to people who are looking for new ideas and products to update their homes, apartments and condos,” says Kathy Masterson, Executive Director of Professional Remodelers of Ohio (PRO) (www.PROohio.org) the organization producing the show at the I-X center from January 21-24, 2010.

The Home Décor Pavilion is being presented by Justice & Company, a full service design center that began in Medina, Ohio in 1986 (www.justiceandcompany.com).

Owner James Justice says the area will include the latest flooring, wall coverings, window treatments, art and sculpture, furniture, interior design and decorating services, fireplace and outdoor living, tile and natural stone materials, decorative millwork, cabinetry and home organization concepts.

“We try to cover every design one can imagine and if someone has an idea on paper, we’ll make your dream come true,” says Justice.

The 2010 RemodelOhio Show will also feature a Smart Kitchen that will use the latest computer technology to control all appliances, products and amenities seen in today’s premier kitchens; a Cooking Stage where the area’s top chefs will demonstrate and share their cooking techniques and recipes; Your Healthy Home, which includes the latest home fitness equipment and ways to go green to save money and the environment, plus the Learn How Stage where attendees can learn how to tackle those small home projects on their own.

In addition to 300 plus displays and workshops, celebrity designer Vern Yip, of TLC’s Trading Spaces, NBC’s Home Intervention, HGTV’s Next Design Star and Deserving Design, will be conducting two seminars and signing autographs, Saturday, January 23 at 3:30 and 6:00 p.m.

The 2010 RemodelOhio Show, now in its 29th year, was proclaimed the National Consumer Show of the Year in 2008, the “only local expo to have that distinction” said Masterson, who takes pride in running PRO, an organization committed to enhancing the professionalism of the remodeling industry and educating homeowners for over 50 years.

Tickets for the 2010 RemodelOhio Show are $12.50 and discount coupons for $1.50 off are available at www.remodelohio.org. Children 16 and under are free. Seniors get half price admission on Thursday, January 21st and ladies get $5.00 off between 10am and 4pm Friday, January 22nd. The show runs from January 21st to the 24th at the IX Center in Cleveland.